Amicus Attorney 7: A Better Way to Manage E-mail

By Gavel & Gown Software

We all know that managing e-mail is becoming a larger part of a lawyer's busy day. With this in mind, our recent launch of Amicus Attorney 7 has given users even more ways to streamline their e-mail practices and workflow. At recent trade shows, customers who saw (and used) Amicus 7 in action were raving about the innovative way it helps them to effectively stay on top of their e-mail. We were quick to add that Outlook integration works two ways: Outlook within Amicus and Amicus within Outlook!

When in Outlook, Amicus Attorney 7 allows users to add two new columns to their Outlook mailboxes: "Amicus Status" and "Amicus Filename." We can't think of an easier way to track e-mail and associate it to a client matter. You can then see at a glance whether an e-mail has been saved to Amicus (and to what file), plus document attachments will get saved to the file at the same time. And Amicus will automatically save all recognized e-mail to your files, or choose to bring relevant e-mail into Amicus with a click of your mouse. So all your e-mail can be tracked, automatically cross-referenced to files and is available for one-click billing.

For those who would like to go a step further and not coordinate two separate applications, Amicus 7 now puts your entire Outlook e-mail right inside the Amicus Communications Center. In other words, you now have 100% of the power of Outlook completely within Amicus! All your Outlook mailboxes are still available to you and now all e-mail can be quickly assigned to a client/matter.

As an e-mail program, Outlook is superb, but it has no concept of matter/files or billable time. Using Outlook within Amicus helps maximize your efficiency, streamline your workflow and capture more billable time from your e-mail.

Amicus Attorney is the world's most widely used practice management software. Let Amicus Attorney 7 help you Do More, Bill More and Go Home Even Earlier than ever before! For more information, please call (800) 472-2289 or visit www.amicusattorney.com.
